Tuition-Free 2-Year Biotech Program (only 20 spots still available)

If you'd like one of the spots, apply by May 31 at franklincummings.edu/bio and complete your FAFSA by July 1.

Top five reasons for joining our Biotech program, which launches this fall.

- 5 The program prepares students to be scientists, not simply recipe-followers. They study the scientific method and data analytics as well as lab techniques.
- 4 Students receive paid internships in the summer and last semester of the program.
- 3 All students in our first class receive free tuition for both years (worth up to $37,000) regardless of their Pell status.
- 2 Many biotech employers are willing to pay the last two years of their employees' 4-year degree.
- 1 Biotechnology companies seek new therapies for cancer and other diseases. Be on the cutting edge of science as you work to save lives.
